Chapter 3

Procedure Followed in Decision-making Process

[Section 4(1) (b) (iii)]

The procedure followed in decision-making by the Public Authority (Advocate General's Office)

In administration cases, the Caseworker will open a file on receipt of proposal or process the proposal in the existing file. The Section Officer will scrutinize the proposal and place it before the Administrative Officer. The Administrative Officer takes the decision in respect of service matters of Group-D employees and in respect of A, B and C Officers and officials, the file would be submitted for the decision of the learned Advocate-General. In respect of certain matters like sanction of leave and other service matters, the Administrative Officer is authorized to take decision. Where the Government's approval or orders required, the same would be sought from the Government.

Chapter 4

Norms set for the Discharge of Functions

[Section 4(1)(b)(iv)]

The details of the norms/standards set by the Public Authority for the discharge of its functions/delivery of services.

The Office of the Advocate General is a constitutional office created under Article 165 of the Constitution of India. The Governor of the State appoints a person who is qualified to be appointed as a judge of the High Court as Advocate General of the State. A person shall not be qualified for appointment as a judge of a High Court unless he is a citizen of India and has for at least 10 years held a judicial office in the territory of India or has for at least ten years been advocate of a High Court or of two or more such courts in succession. In a recent case between the State of Uttaranchal vs. Balvant Singh Chaupal and others decided on 18.01.2010, the Court was considering the issue as to whether an advocate who crossed the age of 62 years can be appointed as Advocate General. As per Article 177 of the Constitution of India, the Advocate General of a State shall have a right to speak in and otherwise take part in the proceedings in the Legislative Assembly and Legislative Council and to speak or otherwise to take part in the proceedings of any committee of the Legislature of which he may be named as a member. However, he shall not be entitled to vote. The Court has further observed, if a person is appointed as a Advocate General say at the age of 55 years, he need not cease to hold the office on attaining the age of 62 years. On the same analogy, the Court has held that a person who crossed the age of 62 years can also be appointed as Advocate General.

The post of Advocate General is a public office and he is the foremost Law Officer of the State. The Courts have held that a concession made by a Government Pleader may not bind the Government unless it is based on instructions from a responsible officer. However, that liberty does not apply to a concession made by the Advocate General as he is assumed to make a statement with responsibility.

In Karnataka, recently in January/February, 2009, the post of Additional Advocate General has also been created. The State in exercise of its jurisdiction under Article 162 of the Constitution of India, is competent to appoint advocates of its choice and designate in such a manner as it may deem fit and proper. A person appointed as Additional Advocate General only becomes another Law Officer and he is not authorized to perform any constitutional or statutory functions.

The Advocate General is entrusted with certain statutory functions and some of these statutory functions are as under:-

A. CONTEMPT OF COURTS ACT, 1971

Section 15 of the Contempt of Courts Act states that in case of a criminal contempt other than a contempt referred to in Section 14, Supreme Court or the High Court may take action on its own motion or on a motion made by Advocate General or any other person with the consent in writing by the Advocate General. Section 2(c) of the Contempt of Courts Act is defined as under:

“(c) “criminal contempt” means the publication (whether by words, spoken or written, or by signs, or by visible representations, or otherwise) of any matter or the doing of any other act whatsoever which-

- i. Scandalizes or tends to scandalize, or lowers or lends to lower the authority of, any court; or
- ii. Prejudices, or interferes or tends to interfere with, the due course of any judicial proceeding; or
- iii. Interferes or tends to interfere with, or obstructs or tends to obstruct, the administration of justice in any other manner;”

In all such cases, the Advocate General himself can move the court for initiating criminal contempt or grant consent in writing for initiation of such proceedings.

ADVOCATES ACT, 1961

Section 23 of the Advocates Act states that certain Law Officers of the State shall have pre-audience. The Attorney General of India shall have pre-audience over all other advocates. The Advocate General of any State shall have pre-audience over all other advocates. Section 3 of the Advocates Act, 1961 provides that the State Bar Council shall also consist of Advocate General of the State as Ex-Officio member.

B. CODE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE, 1908

Section 91 of C.P.C. deals with cases relating to public nuisance or other wrongful act affecting the public. In such case, a suit for declaration and injunction or such other relief can be filed either by the Advocate General or by two or more persons with the leave of the Court.

Section 92 of the C.P.C. deals with filing of suit in cases of breach of any express or constructive trust created for public purposes of a charitable or religious nature. In such a case, the suit can be instituted by the Advocate General or two or more persons having an interest in the trust and obtain leave of the court and as such, any matters relating to public
